Directors of ceremony, I deem it a great honour to propose the vote of thanks on this noble and memorable occasion.

Allow me to firstly thank and give glory to the Almighty God for making today's occasion a resounding success.

First and foremost, I thank our guest speaker, Commissioner of Prisons, Commissioner Silas Motlalekgosi who despite his busy schedule has found time to grace this special occasion. I also express my heartfelt thanks to Deputy Commissioner Bogosing and Deputy Commissioner Sesikwe for grazing this event. My special thanks again to Deputy Commissioner Mmolawa for his tremendous contributions towards hosting of this occasion.

We are grateful to members of the Executive of Botswana Prison Service both serving and retired for their continuous support.

Special thanks to the Executive Committee and support staff, through the leadership of the charismatic and transformational Chairperson, Assistant Commissioner Lethata Manne. You guys have done a great job; the glamour of today's event says it all.

Directors of ceremony, I would have performed a great transgression by not recognising and thanking our partners. In a special way I relay my sincere thanks to our parent organization, Botswana Prison Service; we are what we are because of Botswana Prison Service.

My heartfelt thanks to our underwriter, Botswana Life Insurance Limited for the support ever since our partnership, and, especially for contributing to the success of this occasion. Distinguished delegates, Botswana Life Insurance has sponsored this event to the tune of P50,000.00. The sponsorship has been dedicated to branding and image. The decor you see here, the nice outfit the executive committee is adorned in, as well as part of the video conferencing facilities here, is purely support of Botswana Life Insurance Limited.

A round of applause for Botswana Life!

Special thanks to More Power Investment for helping us to put together our draft constitution, as well as engagement on development of Society's strategic plan. More Power Investment has also contributed tremendously on the conceptualisation to today's setup.

We are grateful for Vunanani Fund Managers for contributing 120 bottles of water.

I owe special gratitude to our retired members who despite our geographical differences make a point to participate in all affairs of the Society.

Last but not least, I thank you all distinguished delegates for grazing this occasion, and the entire membership for your continuing support.

Finally I leave you this inspiring quote from John Dome;

"No man is an island, entire of it; every man is a piece of the continent".

PULA!!!!
